A SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LEARNERS

Igniting curiosity, exploration, and joy in children

Our vision is to inspire a lifelong love of learning while igniting children's curiosity, exploration, and joy. We believe all children are filled with wonder. We pledge to create a safe, bespoke learning environment that encourages critical thinking, problem-solving, and creativity to empower young learners to thrive in a rapidly evolving world. Our day schools are a place where curiosity is celebrated and where students are inspired to explore and embrace the joy of the journey of learning.

A SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LEARNERS

POSITION: ATELIERISTA

LOCATION: CLERMONT, FLORIDA

TYPE: FULL TIME- HOURLY

- Is working with children your passion?
- Do you have an eye for display?
- Is upcycled art your jam?
- Does playing with clay all day give you joy?

Are you looking to build your career in the early childhood education field or expand your established career as an early childhood educator? Apply now to become a valued member of our team at Palms Day School! We are growing in local communities and need excellent educators like you to help grow and shape an extraordinary future for the young learners that we serve.

What expectations will I serve as an Atelierista?

An Atelierista is an educator with a background in the arts, who works together with students in the atelier (studio). The atelier and atelierista are integral parts of the Reggio Emilia approach. Together, the Atelier and Atelierista will often embark on long-term projects and experiment with a variety of creative mediums. The atelier is a learning space and shared environment where students can express themselves through “The Hundred Languages”. This could be through singing, drawing, dancing, clay or natural materials. “The Hundred Languages” represents the infinite potential where students can express their learnings, feelings and ways in which they comprehend the world.

Responsibilities include (but not limited to):

- Ensure the safety and supervision of students, aged from 6 weeks – 10 years in one assigned educational environment.
- Create years worth of Artist of the Month Studies with lessons/activities for all ages
- Observe, listen, document and reflect
- Be alert and aware to witness the students discoveries
- Maintain a warm, safe, and homey environment that is clean and allows for students to grow, engage, and explore.
- Partner with Lead Educators and families to create plans to provide the best care and education for their student(s).
- Partner with Educators to create documentation displays throughout the school
- Provide effective communication with parents/guardians about their student(s) through the use of our communication app as well as conversations during drop off and pick up times.
- Attend Educator Meetings outside of work hours.
- Observe and document students abilities within the educational environment through documentation like learning stories
- Attend ongoing training to meet and keep educational regulations up to date.
- Overtime may be required from time to time, along with evening and weekend hours.
- Plan for, coordinate and take lead of Palms School Wide Spring Art Exhibit
- Other duties as assigned.
